

IEEE-EMBS Hong Kong – Macau Joint Chapter Student Paper Competition

Date: Aug 22, 2015 (Sat.) Venue: Lecture Hall, CityU, Hong Kong

The IEEE-EMBS Hong Kong – Macau Joint Chapter is pleased to announce its 7th annual student paper competition to encourage biomedical engineering students to present their project work and interact with their peers in Hong Kong, Macau, and Shenzhen. Both graduate and undergraduate students from all tertiary institutes in Hong Kong, Macau, Guangzhou, Shenzhen, and Zhongshan are encouraged to submit abstracts on any of the following biomedical engineering related topics:

- Biomedical Signal Processing
- Biomedical Imaging & Image Processing
- Bioinstrumentation, Biosensors, & Bio-micro/nano Technologies
- Bioinformatics, Computational Biology & Systems Biology
- Cardiovascular & Respiratory Systems Engineering
- Neural & Rehabilitation Engineering
- Cellular & Tissue Engineering, & Biomaterials
- Bio-Robotics & Biomechanics
- Healthcare Information Systems & Telemedicine

The Review Process

Submissions will be evaluated based on their originality, scientific merit, structure, and clarity of description. Finalists will be selected to attend the final colloquium to be held on the date and venue indicated above. Each finalist will be required to make an oral presentation on their submitted work to an Invited Judging Panel comprising biomedical engineering experts in the region. The competition winners will be determined from the scores received in the initial review and the oral presentation. Detailed rules for the competition can be found at <http://www.msbme.org/activity.html>
